DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-28, drawn to a method of making accessible context-sensitive data reported by a tool to a tool host including steps for providing a removable listening device to monitor a wired communications channel between one or more tool hosts and one or more tools; recording report and report trigger definitions sent by the tool hosts to the tools; matching a first triggered report from the tools with the report and report trigger definitions to generate a first context-insensitive report before processing a second triggered report; outputting the first context-insensitive report in a field tagged format., classified in class 709, subclass 246.
- II. Claims 29-53, drawn to a method of migrating one or more processes from a tool control host in communication with one or more tools to one or more distributed processors, the method including: providing one or more intercept devices including logic to retain tool status information from one or more tools and to retain pending requests for tool status information from one or more tool control hosts, said intercept device positioned between and in communication with the tool control hosts and the tools; moving one or more processes from the tool control hosts to one or more distributed processors, said distributed processors in communication with the intercept device; routing requests for tool status information from the tool control hosts and the distributed processors to the intercept device; and satisfying the requests for tool status information using the retained tool status information, the retained pending requests for tool status information, and one or more new requests from the intercept device to the tools for otherwise unavailable tool status information; claims 39-53 share similar limitation with claims 29-28 particularly satisfying the requests for tool status information using the retained tool status information, the retained pending requests for tool status information, and one or more new requests from the intercept device to the tools for otherwise unavailable tool (or the external sensors) status information, classified in class 714, subclass 47.

2. Inventions of Group I (claims 1-28) and Group II (claims 29-53) are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention of group I has separate utility from the invention set forth in group II such as providing for the monitoring and recording of communications and further matching information and generating a triggered report in a particular format (context-insensitive) based on the context-sensitive data transmitted by the tool using a listening device. The Group II has a separate utility as described to provide for the migration of processes from control hosts (nodes) to distributed processors (nodes) further routing requests and further satisfying requests for otherwise not available tool status information. Therefore the inventions have different functions and are separately usable. See MPEP § 806.05(d) and 808.01.

Conclusion

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their classification and furthermore their different classification represent serious burden for examination due to the fact that the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. See MPEP § 803.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
